

TWU BUSES

April 2022

TWU MEMBERS TAKING STRIKE ACTION FOR A BETTER BUS INDUSTRY

24 HOUR STRIKE:
12:01am Monday 11 April
to midnight Monday night.

Regional Bus Drivers are also on strike across NSW.

You can choose to join us at the TWU Martin Place Rally if able to get there at 10am Monday.

Talk to your delegate / TWU Official about what might be happening at your local yard.

NON MEMBERS: To be part of the protected strike Action You MUST be a TWU Member. Use the QR Code or link below to Join the TWU (BEFORE MONDAY)

On Monday, TWU members will shut down the Bus network to take a stand for all bus drivers across NSW.

- Drivers are demanding same-job same-pay protections, also improved safety at work for themselves and the safety of their passengers.
- The NSW Government is the real decision maker, they control the money and must take responsibility and control as the economic employer.
- Transport Workers need industry standards that will ensure fairer pay and conditions and improved health and safety across the bus industry.

Drivers are taking action because the NSW Government and Transport for NSW have ignored our claims.

THE STRENGTH OF OUR FIGHT RELIES ON YOU.

Join the protected strike action on Monday to show the NSW Government that Bus Drivers in NSW are united, taking a stand for a safer and fairer bus industry.
